Competent authorities		Filed with the local household registration office, and then transferred to the municipal or county (city) government for the approval of the Ministry of the Interior.
Certificate fee		NT$1200. Payment may be made via postal money order (valid for 3 years, with the Ministry of the Interior indicated as the recipient) or online payment.
Documents required	Documents required to be submitted by the applicant	1. Application form for naturalization of nationality. 2. A valid Alien Resident Certificate or Alien Permanent Resident Certificate. 3. A criminal record issued by the police or other equivalent certificates issued by the government of the applicant's country of origin. 4. Documents proving that the applicant possesses sufficient property or professional skills, which enable him or her to be self-reliant. 5. Certificate proving the applicant possesses basic proficiency in the national language of the ROC and basic knowledge of the rights and obligations of ROC citizens. 6. Documentary evidence of being a high-level professional. 7. One color photograph taken within the past 2 years (facing forward and looking directly at the camera while hatless; same regulations as National ID Card photos; the applicant's full name must be written on the back of the photo). 8. Foreign nationals must submit the passport of their country of origin. 9. Security Check Agreement.

		※ The applicant shall submit supporting documents with detailed explanations for each item: 1. Application form for naturalization of nationality: (1) The applicant shall confirm the correctness of the application printed by the household registration office, followed by signing and affixing their seal on the application. (2) In accordance with the Name Act, a foreign national or stateless person applying for naturalization must take a Chinese language name that conforms to ROC practices. Chinese-language names shall take the following form: ① Surname first, given name second; should an applicant not have a surname, a given name may be registered. ② No space or symbol may be put between the surname and the given name. (3) The applicant must confirm the certificate type by selecting one of three options: Chinese version, Chinese–English bilingual version (Hanyu Pinyin), Chinese–English bilingual version (Tongyong Pinyin). (4) The field for Place of Birth is pre-filled with the applicant's country of origin by default. The applicant shall confirm that the data in this field is accurate prior to signing. 2. A valid Alien Resident Certificate or Alien Permanent Resident Certificate: The applicant shall apply to the local service center of the National Immigration Agency, Ministry of the Interior, for an Alien Resident Certificate or Alien Permanent Resident Certificate. When applying for naturalization, if the aforementioned certificate is within 30 days of expiration, the applicant shall first apply for an extension of the residence period.

		3. A criminal record issued by the police or other equivalent certificates issued by the government of the applicant's country of origin (See Remarks 1 regarding document verification): (1) The applicant shall apply to the government of his/her country of origin for a police criminal record certificate. The certificate issue date must be no more than 6 months prior to the naturalization application date. If, subsequent to the certificate issue date, the applicant has entered the ROC and then left the ROC for an extended period, and the competent authority has reason for concern, the applicant may be asked to provide additional proof of no criminal record for the period spent outside the ROC. (2) If the applicant is the spouse of an ROC national, and the reason for residence as recorded on the Alien Resident Certificate is to reside with relatives (i.e., the husband or wife), the applicant may be exempt from submitting this document. (3) If the applicant is the spouse of an ROC national, and has obtained an Alien Permanent Resident Certificate for the reason of residing with relatives (i.e., the husband or wife), the applicant may be exempt from submitting this document. (4) If the applicant was formerly the spouse of an ROC national and has never left the ROC following the dissolution of the marriage, the applicant may be exempt from submitting this document. (5) If the applicant is a stateless person or entered the ROC before the age of 14 and has never left, he/she is not required to submit this document. 4. Documents proving that the applicant possesses sufficient property or professional skills, which enable him or her to be self-reliant: (1) Attach one of the following documents: ①Those who meet the requirement of earning an average monthly income within the ROC over the past year more than double the basic wage as promulgated by the Ministry of Labor may attach the withholding and non-withholding tax statements for all forms of income for the most recent fiscal year, a tax payment certificate, a certificate issued by the employer stating the period of employment and salary income, proof of salary payments by bank transfer, or other relevant documents. ②Proof of owning personal or real property, within the ROC worth more than NT$5 million. ③A specific professional/technical skill certificate or document of technical assessment issued by a competent authority of the ROC government. ④Proof of meeting other requirements as recognized by the Ministry of the Interior. (2) The calculation of the amount listed in Item 1 and Item 2 above shall include the income or property of the applicant, his/her spouse, the parent(s) of his/her spouse, and his/her parents who have household registration in the ROC. The specialist license specified in Item 3 includes those held by the applicant and his/her spouse, the parent(s) of his/her spouse, and his/her parents who have household registration in the ROC. If the license holder is someone other than the applicant, the license holder shall also present a certificate of security which can secure the applicant's living needs in the ROC. (3) The spouse of an ROC national whose marital relationship with the ROC national has lasted for more than 3 years or who has been granted permission to reside permanently in the ROC may be exempt from submitting this document. 5. Certificate proving the applicant possesses basic proficiency in the national language of the ROC and basic knowledge of the rights and obligations of ROC citizens: (1) Attach one of the following documents: ① Proof of having studied in a domestic public or private school for at least 1 year. ② Proof of having participated in or accumulated at least 100 hours (72 hours for persons aged 65 years or over) in an educational program offered by a government agency. The aforementioned programs include a variety of programs directly run by the ROC government on its own or by agencies, groups, or schools subsidized by the government. ③ Proof of having passed the test for basic language abilities and general understanding of the rights and duties of naturalized ROC citizens (hereinafter referred to as the "naturalization test") by obtaining a score of 60 points or higher (50 points or higher for persons aged 65 years or over). Persons with a valid Alien Resident Certificate or Alien Permanent Resident Certificate may apply at a naturalization testing center to take the naturalization test. (2) Those who have previously registered the aforementioned certificates in the Nationality Administration Database of the Registration Information System are not required to submit this document. 6. Documentary evidence of being a high-level professional: (1) General high-level professionals: ① A Recommendation statement for naturalization as a high-level professional, issued by the central competent authority for the relevant industry or undertaking within 6 months prior to the date of application, together with documents certifying the applicant's education and professional experience and other documents certifying the applicant's professional qualifications. However, where the applicant possesses specialized, rare, or innovative professional expertise that is urgently needed in the ROC and the central competent authority for the relevant industry or undertaking cannot be determined under the current laws and regulations, the applicant may submit relevant materials, including documents certifying their professional qualifications, to the Ministry of the Interior. The Ministry of the Interior will then request the Executive Yuan to designate the appropriate central competent authority for the relevant industry or undertaking to provide the recommendation. ② The determination of whether an applicant qualifies as a high-level professional under this category shall be submitted to a review committee convened by the Ministry of the Interior, consisting of impartial members of the public and representatives of relevant government agencies, for review. ③ For contact information for the designated contact persons at the central ministries and agencies responsible for reviewing applications for the Recommendation Statement, as well as the relevant forms, please visit the Dept. of Household Registration, MOI Registration Information System (URL: https://www.ris.gov.tw/) Home → Themes → High-Level Professional. (2) High-level professionals holding the Plum Blossom Card: ① For persons who have been approved for permanent residence pursuant to Subparagraph 2 or 3, Paragraph 3, Article 25 of the Immigration Act, the Ministry of the Interior may request the central competent authority for the relevant industry or undertaking, or request the Executive Yuan to designate the appropriate central competent authority for the relevant industry or undertaking, to provide a recommendation. Applicants are not required to submit a recommendation statement; however, they must still submit documents certifying their education and professional experience and documents certifying their professional qualifications. ② The determination of whether an applicant qualifies as a high-level professional under this category may be conducted through documentary review, and review by a review committee is not required.

	Documents to be checked for the applicant by the household	1. Comprehensive record of the applicant's entries and exits from the ROC. 2. Resident certificate data: (1) The applicant must legally reside within the territory of the ROC for at least 183 days each year for at least 2 consecutive years, or have previously resided in the ROC for at least 5 consecutive years prior to applying for naturalization. The calculation of the aforementioned 2 years of consecutive residence refers to the 2 years preceding the registration office	application for naturalization, which must be consecutive and uninterrupted, with the applicant legally residing in the ROC for at least 183 days in total each year during such period. Nevertheless, any residence overstay does not conform to the requirements for legal residence and will result in the interruption of such residence period. If the overstay period does not exceed 30 days, the residence period will be deemed not to have been interrupted. However, the overstay period will not be included in the calculation of days of legal residence. (2) Where the residence period is due to any of the following circumstances, it will not be included in the calculation of the legal residence period: ① Where the applicant is permitted by the Ministry of Labor to engage in work prescribed in Subparagraph 8 to Subparagraph 10, Paragraph 1, Article 46 of the Employment Service Act. ② Where the applicant comes to Taiwan for schooling. ③ Where the applicant is under exit restrictions by the National Immigration Agency of the MOI as requested by competent authorities. ④ Where an applicant has lost the nationality of his/her country of origin, has not acquired the nationality of the ROC, and is waiting for nationality restoration of his/her country of origin. ⑤ Where an applicant has a labor dispute, which has been under litigation proceedings. ⑥ Where an applicant suffers an occupational disaster and requires medical treatment. ⑦ Where the applicant is the victim or witness of a criminal case. ⑧ Where the applicant is a dependent of persons referred to in the preceding seven Subparagraphs. 3. Criminal records covering the applicant's period of residence in the ROC. 4. Proof of ability to be self-reliant: (1) For submissions involving the income or property of the applicant's spouse, the parent(s) of his/her spouse, and his/her parents who have household registration in the ROC, the household registration office will verify the household registration data of such persons. (2) If the applicant has issued a Letter of Authorization for Investigation of Income and Property for himself/herself, his/her spouse, the parent(s) of his/her spouse, or his/her parents who have household registration in the ROC, the household registration office will check the income and property data of the authorizing parties. 5. Certificates registered in the Nationality Administration Database of the Registration Information System proving the applicant possesses basic proficiency in the national language of the ROC and basic knowledge of the rights and obligations of ROC citizens. 6. For naturalization cases involving stateless persons, an inquiry must be made to the National Immigration Agency, Ministry of the Interior as to the reason the applicant obtained a "stateless" Alien (Permanent) Resident Certificate, and the agency's official response letter must be submitted.

Remarks		1. If the required evidential documents are produced abroad, they must be verified by an Overseas Mission and reverified by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. If the documents are produced or verified by a foreign embassy, consulate, or authorized representative agency stationed in the ROC, they must be verified by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. If the documents are in a foreign language, a Chinese translation of the documents must be submitted. The translated version must be verified by an Overseas Mission and re-verified by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs or authenticated by a public notary in the ROC. 2. The process from applying for naturalization to the initial establishment of household registration is as follows: Resident Visa (Overseas Mission) → Alien Resident Certificate or Alien Permanent Resident Certificate (National Immigration Agency, Ministry of the Interior) → Legally reside in the ROC for at least 183 days in total each year for 2 years, or have previously legally resided in the ROC for 5 consecutive years → Naturalization (application filed with the household registration office, then transferred to the municipal or county [city] government for approval by the Ministry of the Interior) → Resident Certificate for the Taiwan Area and Registered Permanent Residence Certificate (National Immigration Agency, Ministry of the Interior [the applicant may prepare the necessary documents and submit them to the household registration office together with the naturalization application; the documents will then be transferred to the Ministry of the Interior for handling]) → Initial household registration and application for National ID Card (household registration office). 3. For inquiries regarding the status of nationality alteration applications, please visit the Dept. of Household Registration, MOI Registration Information System (URL: https://www.ris.gov.tw/). 4. After a foreign national or a stateless person has been granted permission for naturalization by the Ministry of the Interior, the Ministry of the Interior may revoke permission for naturalization within 2 years of discovering any circumstances that do not conform to the requirements for naturalization (such as legal residence, capacity, no bad conduct, no criminal record, ability to live a stable life, or loss of original nationality). However, naturalization cannot be revoked if more than 5 years have passed since it took effect. Nevertheless, the time restriction on revocation does not apply to persons who, per a judicial court ruling, have been found to have become naturalized ROC nationals by colluding to conclude a fraudulent marriage or adoption. The applicant is advised to carefully review the provisions of the Nationality Act of the Republic of China to determine whether he/she truly meets the requirements for naturalization before applying to become a naturalized ROC national. 5. After a naturalized foreigner or stateless person has established initial household registration in Taiwan, if he is a male of conscription age (i.e., from January 1 of the year following the year in which he reaches 18 years of age, until December 31 of the year in which he reaches 36 years of age), he shall complete his compulsory military service in accordance with law. For questions related to military service, please consult the township, city, or district office for the municipality where the initial household registration was established.
